Somebody comes forward with the claim that a woman can be judged by her hair. If her hair is false, we can't believe anything it would indicate.

At Bucyrus, O., a court fined a man $200 and sent him to jail three months for killing a woman. It must have been the man's first offense, and it ought to be a good lesson to him.

A. R. Peacock, of Pittsburg, Pa., worth $20,000,000 wants to go to Congress. His pile will be enough to make Pennsylvania voters help Peacock in his aspirations to strut around Washington as a Congressman.

The Star congratulates the Lexington Dispatch upon its twenty-third anniversary. It is a model weekly newspaper and deserves the large measure of success which is in evidence in its columns and appearance generally.

The Senate Committee on Inter-State Commerce, in its investigation of railroad rates, is going right ahead asking some witnesses if they favor government-fixed rates, just as if the committee were going to give a chew of tobacco for an affirmative answer.

June 16th is to be educational campaign rally day at Greensboro where the North Carolina Teachers' Asociation will be in session that week. The principal speakers will be those able and eloquent champions, Gov. R. B. Glenn and former Governor Charles B. Aycock. They are two wheel horses in any kind of a campaign.

We are gratified, of course, to note the success of North Carolinians who have gone to other States and grown up with them, but here is our elevated hat to the North Carolinians native or adopted who have made North Carolina first in industries and last to take any step that will look like a halt on the road to greater achievements.

China is showing signs of waking up. At Shanghai on Wednesday a large meeting of influential Chinese merchants was held and a vigorous protest was made against the new Chinese exclusion treaty recently proposed in the United States. It was unanimously decided to boycott all American goods unless the terms of the treaty are modified. The worm is turning.

LOCAL DOTS.

—Other Local on Fourth Page.

—Members of Wilmington Lodge, No. 319, A. F. & A. M. will meet tonight at 8 o'clock for work in the third degree.

—Charles Galloway, colored, yesterday indicted a negro "lady friend" for the larceny of $5 from his pockets. The prosecuting witness had the tables turned on him for the woman made out a case against him for an assault and he was required to pay the cost. The transaction took place in the court of Justic Bornemann, who delivered a sharp lecture to both parties.

—Ella Hunter, an insolent, defiant colored woman, came to grief yesterday evening through a bit of "sass" she gave Justice Bornemann a few days ago when that minion of the law called upon her to pay up some old back costs. As a result of the woman's insolence an alias capias was issued for her and she was stuffed into jail, screaming at the top of her voice, by Constable Savage early last night.

THE STRATEGISTS PLEASED.

Osman Stock Company at the Academy—Another Large Audience.

The comedy entitled "The Strategists" was the bill offered by the Osman Company last night to a much pleased audience, the work of Mr. Hamilton, the lead, being especially clever. "Ressurrection," the play for to-night gives Miss Reicka opportunity for her histrionic talent in the trying part of Katousha, and she is able to represent this difficult character to the satisfaction of her many friends.

Among the specialties to-night, at the request of many friends, Mr. Russel will sing "The Holy City." This talented young singer has been engaged with the company.

Baseball Wednesday.

The M. S. G.'s defeated the Monarchs Wednesday by a score of 17 to 5. The battery for the M. S. G.'s was C. Gore and Seifert; for the Monarchs, Brinkley and W. Gore. The line up of the teams was as follows: M. S. G.'s— Seifert, catcher; C. Gore, pitcher; W. Lacy, first base; Croom, second base; Hewlette, third base; L. Lacy, short stop; Branch, left fielder; Alderman, center fielder, Rogers, right fielder. Monarchs—W. Gore, catcher; Brinkley, pitcher; Hines, first base; Terry, second base; M. Gore, third base; Meyers, short stop; Nash, left fielder; Neal, center fielder, and Green, right fielder.

Board of Aldermen to Meet.

Mayor Waddell will probably convene a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen to-night or to-morrow night. The various standing committees, after frequent meetings, have now about arranged the plans for the several departments and a meeting of the Board is desired to give official approval to a number of detail matters. All factions are now working harmoniously for the common good of the city, and the hope is that nothing will occur to mar the pleasant relationship now existing.

SEA GAVE UP DEAD

Body of Young W. A. Little Found at Wrightsville Beach Yesterday Morning

REMAINS SENT TO CHARLOTTE

Distinguished Military Honors Paid to Departed Comrade by Wilmington Light Infantry—Funeral Services at Armory.

Almost completely imbedded in the sands of the seashore, only the feet and ankles protruding from the earth which covered it, under twelve inches of water and fifteen feet distant from the line of the ebb and flow of the tide, the body of young W. A. Little, who was drowned while surf bathing in front of the Hicks' cottage on Wrightsville Beach Sunday afternoon, was found early yesterday morning by Mr. W. J. Moore, proprietor of the new hotel on Wrightsville, a short distance away from the point on the beach off which the drowning took place. Mr. Moore was up as early as 5 o'clock and had gone for a stroll up the beach in the fresh morning air, as is his custom, when his attention was attracted by something white in the clear water of a very low tide. At first he passed on, but re-calling the drowning of young Mr. Little and the diligent search being made for the body by every one at the beach, it occurred to him that he had best look again. He did so, and thought he could make out the lines of human feet. He hailed a party of colored fishermen, who were just going out for a morning haul, and they came with their boat. Going out to the spot, the body was discovered. The head was buried downward, as the body lay under four or five feet of sand, which had probably been washed in by the storm of the night before. It required more than an hour to unearth the remains.

Meanwhile a message had been sent to the city and a special car of the Consolidated Company was sent down with Mr. James F. Woolvin, funeral director; Capt. Donald MacRae, Capt. William F. Robertson and Lieuts. J. McRee Haich and Thos. R. Orrell and Private Thos. E. Myers, of the Wilmington Light Infantry, Mr. H. M. Croswell, Mr. J. A. McGeachy and a representative of the Star. The body was in a remarkably fine state of preservation, and it was embalmed by Mr. Woolvin immediately upon its being taken from the water.

The remains were then brought up to the city and tenderly borne to the armory of the Wilmington Light Infantry, of which organization Mr. Little was a valued member. The father and uncle of the young man, who came down immediately after the drowning, returned home Wednesday, but Mr. J. W. Little, Jr., a brother, and Mr. E. H. Little, a cousin, of the young man, were here and stated that the family wished the remains sent to the Little home, six miles north of Charlotte, for interment. Arrangements were then at once set on foot to take the body on the afternoon train to Charlotte.

Funeral Services.

Brief, but very impressive funeral services, were conducted from the armory at 2 o'clock by Rev. J. M. Wells, Ph. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church, assisted by Rev. R. W. Hogue, rector of Saint James' Episcopal parish and chaplain of the company. The W. L. I. was present in full uniform and paid silent tribute to their deceased comrade. A number of very handsome floral tributes were laid on the casket. The hymns, "Lead Kindly Light" and "Just as I am Without One Plea" were rendered with touching effect by an octette from the ranks of the young man's comrades in the company. The service over, the company formed in front of the armory, opened ranks and presented arms as a mark of respect as the casket passed through tenderly carried by friends and associates of Mr. Little as follows: Messrs. H. M. Crosswell, Markley Crosswell, Hinton James, R. M. Sheppard, J. A. McGreachy and Mr. J. G. deRoulhac Hamilton. The entire company escorted the remains to the Seaboard station and a detachment in command of Corporal Tom Gause and composed of Corporal L. E.Hall, Corporal Holmes Davis and Private Thos. E. Myers accompanied the remains on to Charlotte. They will secure a bugler from the Charlotte Artillery, and will conduct the burial with military honors near Charlotte to-day.

Robbed Negro Brakeman.

Essie Simmons, a colored habitue of "dark town," was arrested last night by Policeman C. E. Wood on a charge of having stolen a pocket book containing something over $15 from Jefferson Bethea, a colored A. C. L. brakeman, who had just been paid off, and whom she inveighled into her house. The woman was arrested at Fifth and Harnett streets and the pocket book and $8 of the money were found in her shoe. She will explain to the Mayor in the police court to-day "how come" the pocket book there.

A. C. L. Baggage Agent.

Yesterdy's Florence Times: J. W. Williams has accepted a position as baggage agent at the Coast Line station succeeding Mr. Dantzler who resigned some time ago to accept a position as assistant time keeper at the shops. Mr. Williams is well known here having been bookkeeper and typewriter for Roadmaster Newman before accepting his present position and his many friends are glad to know of his success."

MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION

Meeting of Directors Yesterday Afternoon—Secretary Haar Resigns and Successor Elected.

The Board of Directors of the Merchants' Association held its regular monthly meeting in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Mr. W. B. Cooper, the president, was in the chair and every member of the Board was in attendance. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved, and all other routine business was disposed of.

The most important feature of the meeting was the resignation of Mr. John Haar, the efficient segretary and treasurer of the Association, who retires to enter the employment of Messrs. J. G. Wright & Son, real estate agents. The resignation was accepted with regret to take effect on May 13th. Several applications for the position of secretary and treasurer were read, but after careful consideration, Mr. James Kyle, secretary and treasurer of the Chamber of Commerce, was elected. Mr. Kyle consented to accept the position, provided the duties of the office do not conflict with those of secretary and treasurer of the Chamber of Commerce, and that the Chamber of Commerce does not raise any objection to his acceptance.

Applications of the F. E. Hashagen Co., and the W. T. Mercer Co., for membership, were read and favorably acted upon.

The meeting yesterday afternoon was fully attended and much enthusiasm was manifested on the part of those present. Plans for increasing the efficiency of the Association, especially the collection bureau, were discussed and a number of valuable suggestions were received.

NORTH CAROLINA SOROSIS.

Annual Meeting Yesterday Afternoon. Efforts for Public Library.

The annual meeting of the North Carolina Sorosis was held at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the pretty club room of the society in the Odd-Fellows' building. All the former officers have been re-elected, therefore the most interesting feature of the meeting was the hearing of interesting annual reports, which indicated a very substantial growth of the organization, and the accomplishment of a far greater work the past twelve months than ever before. The meeting was very enthusiastic and largely attended. Applications from a number of ladies seeking membership were favorably acted upon, and a large amount of routine work transacted.

Sorosis is heart and soul for a public library and has in no wise abandoned the hope of establishing a very complete one at no distant day. The organization already has the nucleus for one and is making a strong effort for the Merchants' Library now being voted for in a popular contest. The effect of the library already in the hands of Sorosis is being daily felt, and it is no uncommon sight to see pupils of the schools around the tables in the club room consulting various of the reference books already on hand. The library will be for the general public, and Sorosis hopes for the earnest co-operation and support of the public in the society's effort.

After the meeting yesterday dainty refreshments were served to club members.

Red Men Off To-Day.

Indications point to a large attendance upon the celebration of St. Tammany Day by Eyota and Cherokee tribes, I. O. R. M., at Wrightsville Beach to-day. Every car from 6:30 A. M. to 12 o'clock to-night will be an excursion car and the fare for the round trip will be only 25c. from any part of the city. Among the features at the beach will be music and dancing all day in the pavilion; an exciting chase and the capture of a pale face on the burning sands of the beach; his subsequent torture at the stake and last, but not least, a spectacular war dance by the copper-skins in the pavilion. An interesting feature will be an oration by "Hotstuff," a Kentuckian of note, whom the Red Men were fortunate to secure for this particular occasion.

IN GREEN AND WHITE

Miss Lillian E. Johnson Lovely Bride of Mr. Charles B. Biggar.

PRETTY SERVICE YESTERDAY

Ceremony Performed at Home of Bride's Parents by Rev. F. A. Bishop, of Raleigh—Reception and Bridal Journey Followed.

One of the prettiest home weddings of the year was that one yesterday afternoon at half after 5 o'clock, which joined in marriage Miss Lillian E. Johnson, the attractive young daughter of Alderman and Mrs. E. F. Johnson, and Mr. Charles B. Biggar, a popular young Georgian, who now holds a responsible position in the passenger department of the Atlantic Coast Line, in this city. A host of friends and relatives were present to witness the happy nuptial event which was solemnized at the hospitable home of the bride's parents, No. 10 North Ninth streets, and every feature of the beautiful service was carried out perfectly according to the elaborate arrangements which had been made.

The parlors of the home were beautifully decorated with wild smilax, ferns, palms and other evergreens, and the ceremony was performed at an improvised altar of white, prettily decorated with LaFrance roses. The decorations were all in green and white and the color scheme was carried out perfectly. The shutters of the parlor were closely drawn and the lighting effect from numerous candelabra was very pretty indeed.

Promptly at the hour appointed for the service the groom and his lovely bride entered to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March as delightfully rendered by Miss Maie Galloway. As they knelt at the altar, the service began which joined them as man and wife, the solemn words having been spoken by the Rev. F. A. Bishop, pastor of Central Methodist church, Raleigh, N. C., an uncle of the bride, who was assisted by the Rev. J. Marvin Culbreth, pastor of Market Street M. E. Church, of this city. While the impressive service was being said, the organist softly played "Hearts and Flowers" with charming effect. A bridal chorus from Lohengrin was rendered as the party left the room.

The bride wore a lovely gown of white habutai silk, trimmed with point lace, and carried a large shower bouquet of bride's roses and white carnations. The groom was attired in the conventional black, with boutonniere of white carnations.

Following the ceremony an elegant wedding reception was tendered by the bride's parents, during the progress of which their hundreds of friends took occasion to extend happiest congratulations to the popular young couple. A course of delightful refreshments was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Biggar, accompanied by a number of friends repaired to the Front street station of the Atlantic Coast Line whence they departed on the northbound train, amid a shower of rice and best wishes, for a bridal tour North, including Washington, Baltimore and other cities of interest. The bride's travelling suit was an exquisite creation of violet taffeta with hat and gloves to match. Returning to the city in about ten days, Mr. and Mrs. Biggar will be at home to friends at the residence of Mrs. Alderman, No. 7 South Fourth street.

The bride, as Miss Johnson was one of Wilmington's most beautiful young women, and she is much loved and admired in a wide circle of friends. The groom is a son of Mrs. Ella Biggar, of Augusta, Ga., but has been with the A. C. L. here since the recent consolidation with the Plant system. He is held in the highest esteem in the community, and has many friends in Wilmington, who extend sincerest congratulations upon the happy event yesterday. In testimony of the high esteem in which both the bride and groom are held; a very large number of handsome wedding gifts were received. One of the presents, a very handsome oak set, was sent by Mr. Biggar's fellow employes in the general offices of the Coast Line in this city.

They're After Mr. Vagrant.

Mayor Waddell, through Chief-of-Police Williams and his men, has instituted a vigorous campaign against vagrancy. Two were sent to the roads Wednesday; two others were arrested yesterday and others have skipped town or found employment. The effort is chiefly directed against idle, vicious negroes, including both sexes. The effect of the campaign is already being felt and the streets are rapidly clearing of a very objectionable class of our "Afro-American citizenry." The two arrests yesterday were Mary Carter and Lugenia Bacchus, both of unsavory reputation. Policeman Leon George "ran the pair in." Last night Policeman C. E. Wood also sent down Annie Pollock, colored, a well known police offender.

Married at Scott's Hill.

A pretty wedding ceremony at Scott's Hill Wednesday night joined in marriage Miss Ackra Jarman, the accomplished young daughter of Mr. Edward Jarman, and Mr. John H. Hill, the Rev. Y. E. Wright officiating. The dame of honor was Mrs. Swain, and the best man was Mr. R. M. Mallard. Mr. Robert Foy and Miss Hunt were the other attendants.

Come to-day Polvogt's bargain sale. Bargains in every department. **

—Mr. N. Sidbury, of Scott's Hill, was among yesterday's arrivals in the city.

—Mr. Robert S. Newton, clerk of the Superior Court of Brunswick county, spent yesterday in the city.

—Mrs. William Struthers, Jr., returned yesterday from a pleasant visit to friends and relatives at Grista.

—T. E. Brown and John D. Bellamy, Jr., Esqs., returned last night from a professional visit to Burgaw.

—Mrs. John Langford, of New York, nee Miss Kate Solar, of this city, is visiting relatives and friends in Wilmington.

—Mr. and Mrs. Mills and Miss Rheta Mills, of Baltimore, are guests at the home of Capt. H. C. Twining, No. 515 North Fourth street.

—Mr. R. H. Sikes, an old Wilmington boy, who is now connected with the North Carolina Geological Survey at Chapel Hill, is in the city for a few days.

—Mr. W. S. Lyon, the clever representative of the factory manufacturing the celebrated Snow Shoes, was in the city yesterday calling on his Wilmington agents, Solomon's Shoe Store.

—Mrs. M. O. Callaway, who has been spending the Winter in Wilmington with her daughter, Mrs. A. D. McClure, left yesterday for Spartanburg, S. C., to spend some time with another daughter, Mrs. W. S. Glenn.

—Miss Victoria Stone and Mr. W. H. Stone, of Little River, S. C., are in Baltimore attending commencement of the University of Maryland, from which their brother, Mr. J. A. Stone, graduated with honors in medicine this week.

—Clarkton Express: "The many friends of Mr. Geo. H. Currie will be glad to know that he has recovered from his recent severe illness sufficiently to be out again. He was out riding Tuesday for the first time in about ten weeks."

TAX LEVY FOR NEW YEAR.

Proposed Bond Issue, It is Claimed, Will Not Increase Rate.

The justices of the peace of the county will meet at the Court House the first Monday in June to pass upon the tax levy for the ensuing fiscal year. It is understood that there will be no increase in the rate whatever and there may be a slight reduction. The first Monday in June falls on the 5th of that month and the election on the question of a bond issue of $50,000 for the maintenance and continuation of the permanent road improvement comes two days later on Wednesday, the 7th.

Paradoxical as it may seem, an absolute guarantee is given by the commissioners that if the new bond issue carries, it will not increase the present rate of taxation one iota. The present levy is entirely sufficient to provide for the interest and a sinking fund to retire the new bonds at maturity, so that in voting for the bond issue, it may be urged that one is not voting for an increase of taxes, but for a continuation of the road improvement upon the same amount of revenue as is now obtained.

It is stated, however, that if the bond issue does not carry that a direct tax will probably be necessary to maintain the convict system and the maintenance of the present roads.

TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION 556.

Annual Election of Officers—By-Laws Were Adopted.

At a special meeting of Wilmington Typographical Union, No. 556, held yesterday afternoon, the following officers were elected and installed to serve for the ensuing twelve months:

President—C. H. Huband.
Vice-President—J. E. Lewis.
Recording Secretary—J. H. Curtis.
Financial Secretary—H. D. Stanland.
Treasurer—J. H. Hewlett.
Sergeant-at-Arms—H. L. Hewett.

The by-laws committee, composed of Messrs. Cameron, Curtis and Howard, made their final report and the laws were adopted and ordered to be printed.

Another Giant Saw-Mill.

The Southport Standard says that the Waccamaw Land and Lumber Co., of this city, has purchased from Adam Smith fifty acres of land on the north side of the mouth of Town Creek, opposite The Oaks plantation, on Cape Fear river, and that rumors are that the company will establish there extensive wharves and another large mill. The company owns 172,000 acres of the famous Green Swamp lands and has a large contract for lumber for the Panama Canal Construction Company. The company expects later to run a railroad through the timber belt.

Services in Front of Saloon.

The local Salvation Army Post introduced the Wilmington public to something new early last night by holding a religious service in front of one of the down-town saloons, it is said, at the invitation of the proprietor. The local post is composed of Adjutant Wiggins, an assistant and their two wives, and all four appeared in front of the saloon, just after supper, sung a number of revival hymns and held a short prayer and praise service. The novelty attracted a large crowd.

SPECIAL TRIAL OFFER

THE MORNING STAR

AT REDUCED RATES

For the next sixty days we will mail THE MORNING STAR to subscribers outside the city at the following reduced rates:

For One Year . . . . $4.00.
For Six Months . . . $2.00.

Positively, no subscription will be taken at the reduced rates for a period less than six months. For one month the price will be, as heretofore, $1.25 for three months; or, fifty cents for one month.

This offer, as will be noted, is for a limited period only, and is made for the purpose of giving those who appreciate the value of a daily newspaper an opportunity to read the STAR for six months, or more, at a cost of about one and a quarter cents per copy, and then determine whether or not they will continue their subscription at the regular price.

No name will be entered on our books under this offer unless the order is accompanied with the cash.

While this proposition is made primarily to secure new subscribers, old subscribers outside the city may avail themselves of its advantages at the reduced rate provided they pay all arrearages and for not less than six months in advance.

On account of the heavy expense attached to our city circulation department this offer does not apply to city subscribers.

Sample copies mailed free to any address.

Note the conditions of this offer carefully to avoid mistakes.

TRAINS FROM HAVANA TO NEW YORK.

A statement that vestibule trains are to go from Havana to New York and that freight cars loaded with the products of Cuba are to be forwarded from Havana to New York without breaking bulk, might sound like an idle dream but it isn't. Leastwise the Savannah News is authority that there is no dream about it, but that it is an absolute fact that such a scheme is on foot and that no less a person than Mr. Henry M. Flagler, multi-millionaire, is at the head of such a vast undertaking.

It might be asked, how is it possible to have transportation direct from Havana to New York, but the Jacksonville correspondent of our esteemed Savannah contemporary gives us the plan. Here it is:

"The Flagler interests have projected a line of improvements that will practically extend the East Coast Railway into the heart of Cuba. The building of the extension from Miami to Key West means more than is apparent on the surface. Besides the railroad to connect the present southern terminus of the East Coast with Key West it is authoritatively stated that a pipe line to provide a new water supply for Key West is to be built from Miami, a distance of 120 miles, drawing its water supply from a series of big wells to be bored at Miami. The present water supply of Key West is from cisterns, artesian wells being impracticable. In connection with the East Coast extension a big steamship ferry will carry cars from the wharves in Key West and land at Havana across the strait. This will enable cars to be loaded in Cuba and forwarded direct without unloading to Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and the West, and will afford a means for direct and unbroken shipments to Cuba. A powerful ferry steamer is to be built, carrying practically a whole train across the straits, a distance of about ninety miles. With the completion of these enterprises and the building of the proposed Flagler hotels at Key West and Havana, the Flagler interests will have practically the control of the entire East Coast of Florida, and a firm grip on the fast freight transportation business between this country and Cuba. It is understood that experiments have shown that sugar cane can be successfully grown on the East Coast south of Miami for the manufacture of sugar. The development of the sugar industry will, if successful, provide a great resource for that part of Florida."

It is hard to tell what modern engineering skill can do, and no body need doubt that Mr. Flagler believes that it will aid him in carrying out his scheme. As further evidence that he is in earnest, the News editorially says:

"It is quite an engineering feat that Mr. Flagler has undertaken, namely the extending of his East Coast Railway from Miami to Key West, and thence, by means of transfer boats to Havana. He understood, however, what he was doing before he obtained a charter for the extension. And the Florida Legislature and Gov. Broward understood the scheme in all its details.

"It will be a costly undertaking to construct the road from the mainland along the keys to Key West, but the engineers have shown that the road can be built within a cost that will allow a profit on the investment, if the business assumes the proportions which it is believed it will. Mr. Flagler isn't a man to go into an undertaking blindly. He sees where he can get his money back, or, at least, a fair return on his investment.

"It is the understanding that the road along the keys will be a solid one. It will not be constructed on trestles. The roadbed will be of sand and rock, and so solid that it will resist the severest storms that sweep the Gulf.

"The boats that will convey the cars to Havana will be so large and sea-worthy that they will not have to remain in port when there are predictions of ordinary storms. They will be built to cross the Gulf in any storm that is likely to visit that part of the sea.

"During the Spanish-American war apprehension was expressed in Florida, especially by Florida fruit and vegetable growers, that with a new condition of things in Cuba that island would become Florida's rival in providing the markets of the North with fruits and vegetables. It was not thought at that time that within a comparatively few years there would be vestibuled cars running from New York to Havana, and yet that is what is now promised. Not only is it proposed to run vestibuled cars, but also refrigerator cars, and to put the fruits and vegetables of Cuba in the Boston, New York and Philadelphia markets weeks before the fruits and vegetables of Florida are ready to be marketed.

"It is not probable, however, that Cuba's output of fruit and vegetables will interfere with the marketing of the products of Florida's farms. Cuba's output will be out of the way before Florida will have anything for market. In the early fruit and vegetable markets Cuba will be as far ahead of Florida as Florida is now ahead of South Georgia and the coast section of South Carolina."

At first it would strike one that the success of Mr. Flagler's tremendous enterprise would bode no-good to Florida but the News takes an optimistic view of it. Truly it is a great scheme but the South is where many more of equal magnitude are to be carried out in the development of her varied resources.

MEMORIAL DAY IN THE STATE.

We are gratified to note that Memorial Day was observed throughout the State. At Charlotte the graves of both Confederate and Federal dead were decorated with flowers, in fact that being the custom wherever the dead of both armies can be reached. At Charlotte, Mrs. Stonewall Jackson, on every Memorial Day, pins the Cross of Honor on Confederate veterans entitled to them, but as she was absent from town, one of the children of the Confederacy did so.

The orator of the day at Newbern was Gen. W. R. Cox who led the last charge at Appomattox, and at Greenville another Appomattox hero, Gen. W. P. Roberts, delivered the address, and another speaker was Dr. S. M. Martin, of Illinois, who entered heartily into the exercises. Bryan Grimes Camp, of Greenville, unanimously adopted a resolution endorsing Gen. Roberts for the vacancy on the Gettysburg Battlefield Commission, caused by the death of Major W. M. Robbins, of Statesville. We notice that the Charlotte Observer endorses Judge A. C. Avery, of Morganton, as commissioner. It will be agreed that either of the gentlemen named will be satisfactory to the people of North Carolina.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—If Philadelphia gets to using the gallows prescription for all grafters the next census will show a marked decrease in the population.—Baltimore

—By 1889 the Dukes had an annual business of $14,500,000. In that year they spent $800,000 in advertising. There is a logical connection between these two facts. Who can find it?—Kinston (N. C.) Free Press.

—In one of his amorous epistles to Miss Woods, Senator Platt observed: "I expect to attend a luncheon at the White House to-day and will be obliged to endure that bulldog grin for an hour." That expression will live.—Bristol Courier.

—Nan Patterson and Prosecuting Attorney Rand owe large debts of gratitude to each other. Nan nas contributed largely to making Rand famous, and Rand has made it possible for Nan to name her own price to appear in New York in vandeville—Norfolk Landmark.

—The South, once ravaged and well-nigh desolated, now blossoms like the rose; the same indomitable courage that prompted her sons to lay down their lives in those trying days, urged them to labor in yet darker days to build this even greater South.—Sumter (S. C.) News.

The only Democratic daily in Minnesota has suspended publication after thirty years' existence. An editor who could do that well running a Democratic newspaper in Minnesota might be willing to move to South Carolina and try running a Republican paper.—Columbia State.

—An officious statistician has figured up that American citizens paid the sum of $1,277,727,190 for alcoholic beverages during 1904. No wonder the whiskey trust has been able to hold up all pure food legislation in State Legislatures as well as in congress for so many years.—Chattanooga Times.

It is a source of unhappiness that the railroad facilities are unequal to demand for bringing to the North all the strawberries the Southern growers are anxious to sell. That a million dollars' worth of these luscious berries should rot for lack of transportation is in the nature of a calamity.—Philadelphia Record.

—Good for Governor Terrell, of Georgia! He wants a national monument in Washington emblemizing the civil war, and showing as its chief figure Grant and Lee with hands clasped in token of a united country. If we must perpetuate an incident that some are willing should be forgotten, there is surely no better way than this.—Brooklyn Eagle.

—One of the biggest towing contracts on record will be begun next month at Baltimore. The largest steel floating dock in the world has been constructed at that city for the United States government. It is destined for service at Manila, and must be towed the distance of 14,000 miles to the Philippines. Maritime and naval interests will watch its progress with great interest. No similar tow has ever been undertaken.—Norfolk Landmark.

"FIRST BIG EXCURSION."

The first big excursion of the year will be operated to Newbern via The Fast and Elegant Atlantic Coast Line on Monday, May 15th, by Thomas H. Knight, whose excursions are always patronized by the best people because they are the best excursions.

A visit to Newbern is always a most delightful pleasure. Don't let this splendid opportunity go by. The fare is remarkably cheap, and within the reach of all, being only $1.00 for the round trip.

Train will leave depot at 7:30 A. M. and will leave Newbern on the return at 10:00 P. M.

TWINKLINGS.

—He—As I sat there alone, Hilda came along and offered me a penny for my thoughts. She—The extravagant creature!—Boston Transcript.

—Frances — "Were you ever in love?" Cordelia—"Yes, with myself Frances—"Well, you never had any rivals to worry about, anyway."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

—He—I'm going to bring Kadley home to dinner on Thursday. She—Why, I thought you hated him so; besides, I'll have to cook the dinner on Thursday. He—I know.—Philadelphia Ledger.

—The Hostess — "Hot water prevents wrinkles." The Caller—"I don't know; my husband keeps me in hot water all the time, and I have a crow's foot or two."—Washington Star.

—"Talking about inventions," said the business man, "I have a little machine in my place that would make me a millionaire if I could only keep it going all the time." "What is it?" "A cash register."

—"Well, Bob Streeter has failed for a million and the creditors 'll get about fifty thousand, I suppose." "Does Bob feel sore?" "Naturally, yes; fifty thousand is a whole lot of money, you know."—Puck.

—Mother—Ethel, you naughty child, what have you been doing to make Charley cry so? Ethel—I've been sharing my cod liver oil with him, dear mamma. You said it was so nice.—Harper's Bazar.

—Euthusiastic Pastor—Ah! no, my dear young lady it is not lip service that is pleasing in heaven. The Dear Young Lady (coyly)—Well, I took in $50 at a dollar a kiss at the church fair.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

—Mrs. Chugwater—Josiah, who is this John Doe I see mentioned in the papers sometimes? Mr. Chugwater—That's short for John D. Rockefeller. His middle name is Dough. I supposed everybody knew that.—Chicago Tribune.

—The Parson—"Wouldn't you like to have your wife come to see you occasionally?" The Prisoner—"Not on your life." The Parson—"Why?" The Prisoner—"You evidently are not aware that I am in for wife murder."—Columbus Dispatch.

—"Yes," said Alkali Ike, quietly, "he died very sudden while playing poker." "Heart disease? queried the tourist. "Well, now I reckon ye might call it heart, spade, diamond, and club disease. He had all four aces up his sleeve."—Philadelphia Press.

COTTON MARKETS.

New York, May 11.—The cotton market was not more than moderately active, taking the session as a whole, but showed much irregularity and nervousness with fluctuations comparatively broad. The opening was weak at a decline of 3 to 7 points under liquidation and selling for short account encouraged by disappointing cables, and a generally favorable weather map. But there was fear of bull manipulation in the near months, and as brokers believed to be working for the bull leaders were buying those positions on the initial decline prices after the first rush of selling orders yesterday had been absorbed worked up toward last night's level. On the advance a great deal of bullish news came in from the South regarding crop prospects west of the Mississippi and private wires claimed heavy rains not shown on the map. This in connection with a firmer tone in New Orleans and reports of firm spot holders, helped to rally the market which in the afternoon showed a net gain of about 3 to 8 points, with May and July the strongest months. Later July longs seemed to be selling while Wall street bulls were supporting the market by purchases of October, and toward the close fluctuations were irregular. Final prices were steady one point higher to 6 points lower. Sales futures estimated 200,000 bales.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Chicago, May 11.—Official announcement that nearly 1,500,000 acres of Fall-sown wheat had been Winter-killed imparted marked strength to the wheat market here to-day. Extensive rains furnished another reason for manifestations of bullish sentiment. At the close July wheat was up 1 1-8@1 1-4c. Corn hsowed a gain of 5-8@3-4c. Oats are up 3-8c. Provisions are unchanged to 10 cents higher.

Election Notice!

The Board of Commissioners of New Hanover County, in accordance with the provisions of an Act of the General Assembly of North Carolina, passed at its 1905 Session, entitled, "An Act to Empower the Board of Commissioners of New Hanover County to Issue Bonds for Road Improvements," and by virtue of the power therein given, do hereby call, and give notice of, an election to be held by the qualified electors of New Hanover County, on Wednesday June seventh (7), 1905, to determine whether New Hanover shall issue Fifty Thousand dollars ($50,000.00) of its bonds, with interest coupons attached, to continue and complete the repairing, constructing and improving the public roads in said County.

At said election the ballots tendered and cast by the qualified electors shall have written, or printed, on them, "For continuing and completing the construction and improvement of the public roads of the County," or, "Against the continuing and completing the construction and improvement of the public roads of the County."

All qualified electors who favor the issue of said bonds shall vote "For continuing and completing the construction and improvement of the public roads of the County," and all qualified electors, who are opposed to the issue of said bonds, shall vote, "Against the continuing and completing the construction and improvement of the public roads of the County."

For the purposes of this election, as authorized by said Act, the said Board of Commissioners have ordered and do hereby order a new registration for said election, and the following are designated as the polling places in the several Townships and Wards, and the persons hereinafter named have been appointed as the Registrars and Judges of Election in said several Townships and Wards, to wit:

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

probably make it very unpleasant for him. Mr. Duke doubtless knows by now that the way of the transgressor is hard. He'd better take to the woods.

—An Iredell county correspondent of the Statesville Landmark sends this item: Mrs. Sallie Boger is visiting friends here. She is a sprucy young widow and isn't at all averse to good looking young men.

—While engaged in logging at Curtis creek, about ten miles below Old Fort, Thursday morning, Mr. Howard Watkins, of Black Mountain, was instantly killed when a log rolled upon him, crushing him. A wife and four children survive.

—Charlotte Chronicle: We are told that a Republican daily paper is to be started in Elizabeth City and that "H. D. Young has resigned a very desirable place in the Government Printing Office to assume the editorship." There are a good many of them still alive, but we had not thought that such a big one existed.

—The Snow Lumber Company of High Point has closed one of the biggest contracts for lumber ever made in this State. The contract is for 15,000,000 feet of sawed lumber, to be delivered in three years, for which the company will pay $150,000. R. F. Dalton went to Mountgomery county Tuesday to close the trade.

—Charlotte Chronicle: Did you ever hear of such luck as the strawberry growers are having? We have told of the immense losses they have sustained by reason of the scarcity of cars to move the crop to market. Well, yesterday they got a freight train loaded and started off and it had gone less than sixty miles when it butted into another train and the shipment was converted into fresh strawberry jam. The Texas farmers who are complaining about rain and the boll weevil do not know what trouble is.

—Durham Sun: Readers will recall that Mr. Brodie Duke, of Durham, married a woman of fame in New York city last winter. It is alleged that the marriage took place while Mr. Duke was not himself, and after much trouble Duke's family got him away from the woman and he is now in Durham. But Mrs. Alice Webb Duke—that's what the woman calls herself—will not be easily shaken, for like all the Dukes, Mr. Brodie has some money. The dispatches in yesterday's papers say that Mrs. Duke is going to Durham. She'll probably go, and unless Mr. Duks stands and delivers she'll Charlotte Observer: There is a great merit in the proposition of some of his friends that Hon. A. C. Avery be appointed to the vacancy on the Gettysburg Battlefield Commission occasioned by the death of the late Hon. Wm. M. Robbins. By the law of its creation one of the members of the commission shall be a Southern man and a Confederate veteran, and while in filling the vacancy the President has the whole South to choose from, it is believed that North Carolina has an advantage in the fact that the lately deceased commissioner was of this State. For a position of this character Judge Avery has peculiar qualifications. He has a taste for study and investigation and a keen interest in the historical facts connected with the civil war. Nowhere could the President find a Confederate veteran better fitted for this place. We could wish that our Senators would make a united effort in his behalf.

NO SMUGGLING IN IT.

Consul General to Singapore Was Just Obliging, That's All.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Norfolk, Va., May 9.—Richard G. Banks, collector of this port, to-day said that some sixty packages of articles of foreign goods have been received at the local custom house from the United States collier Brutus, now at the Norfolk navy yard. The collector said that thus far only a portion of the packages have been examined, but their value is believed to be perhaps $3,000. In reply to an intimation that there was something irregular about the transaction, the collector said that there had been no seizure, no smuggling, nor attempt to smuggle.

Washington, May 9.—O. F. Williams, late American Consul General at Singapore, referring to the report published this morning from Norfolk, Va., concerning alleged smuggling on the collier Brutus, says:

"There is not a word of truth in the report. When leaving Singapore I brought with me a trunk and five cases of goods belonging to a family of Americans who became stranded nearly two years ago in Singapore and to whom I advanced money to reach America and pay their debts in Singapore. The goods referred to were left by the stranded people with me as security but were never examined and my loan has never been paid. Not a box was ever opened and I had no knowledge of the contents of the boxes. On reaching Norfolk the goods were shown to the customs deputy who boarded the steamer and full explanation made to him as to the character of the imports. I had them all marked at Singapore to be sent in bond to Rochester in order to save unpacking and repacking. I went to the customs office in Norfolk, made a full statement as to the goods and proposed that I leave them on ship until the Secretary of the Treasury could be informed and pass upon the matter of their entry, I asking that they should be entered free of duty and agreeing with the collector of customs that at once on reaching my home I would write the secretary in explanation. That I did and believe the secretary at once wrote the collector of customs. To-day I visited the Secretary of the Treasury who informed me that there was no irregularity and who directed the collector in Rochester to be held in the goods as by my request to the collector in Rochester to beh eld in bond until the duties were paid. The goods are not mine."

Terrific Race With Death.

"Death was fast approaching," writes Ralph F. Fernandez, of Tampa, Fla., describing his fearful race with death, "as a result of liver trouble and heart disease, which had robbed me of sleep and of all interest in life. I had tried many different doctors and several medicines, but got no benefit, until I began to use Electric Bitters. So wonderful was their effect, that in three days I felt a like new man, and to-day I am cured of all my troubles." Guaranteed at R. R. Bellamy's drug store; price, 50c. **

SOCIETY OF CINCINNATI.

French Ambassador Lands George Washington in an Address.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Richmond, Va., May 10.—The triennial meeting of the General Society of the Cincinnati met here to-day with the largest attendance in the history of the organization.

The society was welcomed by Mayor McCarthy, of Richmond, who spoke not only for himself, but for Governor Montague, who was kept away by illness, and for Lieutenant Governor Willard, who was to have spoken but was unavoidably absent. A fitting response was made by the president general of the society, Hon. Winslow Warren, of Massachusetts.

Various reports were then received and acted on, and at 1:30 o'clock the society adjourned for luncheon at the Commonwealth Club.

An afternoon session was held and in the evening, the members of the society were guests of the Virginia State Society at a magnificent banquet at the Westmoreland Club. At this banquet, there was present as the guest of the General Society the French ambassador to America, M. Jusserand, who arrived from Washington about 2 o'clock and spent the afternoon driving about and seeing the sights of the city. "Among the numerous toasts at the banquet were the following:

"The Memory of Washington," first; President General of the Society—Drunk standing and in silence.

"Our Great and Good Ally, the French Nation" Response by M. Jusserand, French ambassador to the United States. M. Jusserand said:

"Peace was not signed when George Washington devised your society; a noble one worthy of its founder, meant to preserve the holiest traditions between the men who had sided together in the time of the struggle between the two nations; between the 13 States. These traditions were patriotism, fraternity, human benevolence. We commemorate this foundation most appropriately to-day, on this sacred soil of Virginia, which gave birth to Washington and to Jefferson, which beheld the glorious end of the revolution; heard the earliest declaration of the rights of man and saw the great American Cincinnatus end his life's journey without having felt the pains of old age, as in the quiet peace of a summer day. He died admired by the whole world, and especially by France and by those Frenchmen who had seen him working for his country. The trust in him had been so great from the first that when secret instructions were sent from France to our officers here, they were ordered to reveal them to no one; but there was the usual reservation, except of course, to Monsier Washington. The feelings of LaFayette for him are well known; it was enthusiasm and filial love. Less known and no less striking is the impression made by the great commander of Major General DeChattelluse, a keen observer, a man of letters and a member of the French academy, who writes of him as "The greatest and the best of all men. The whole of North America, from Boston to Charleston, is a great book, each page of which offers his praise."

Among other toasts were these:

"Bunker Hill," "Trenton," "Saratoga" and "Yorktown," gave assurance of independence—Rt. Rev. J. B. Cheshire, D. D., bishop of North Carolina.

"The Defence of Fort Moultrie and the Battles of Guilford, C. H., Cowpens and Eutaw Springs"—Hon. H. A. M. Smyth, South Carolina.

To-morrow the Society and M. Jusserand will make an excursion to Yorktown, the adjacent battle-ground and the site of Lord Cornwallis' surrender. Friday morning the society will hold its general session.

MR. I. H. LAMB'S DEATH.

Special Star Correspondence.

Burgaw, N. C., May 10.—To-day all that was mortal of the late I. H. Lamb was consigned to mother earth at the old family graveyard near Cypress Creek, in Pender county, where he had lived a long and honorable life, having passed his 75th anniversary on the first day of this month. Mr. Lamb was the youngest son and is the last survivor of ten children of Isaac Lamb, the family being remarkable for longerity, all save one passing the three score and ten mark. At the outbreak of the Civil War Mr. Lamb volunteered, and served to the close, being a member of that gallant battery commanded by Col. Jno. D. Taylor, and was a brave and faithful soldier always at his post of duty. The writer is informed that in the last bloody encounter at Bentonville on the 19th of April, 1865, Mr. Lamb with another soldier bore his colonel from the field after he had been wounded.

As a citizen, all through the varying vicissitudes of fortune since the war, he has remained a constant, quiet, true and noble type of Southern manhood; always ready at every call of duty. As a friend and neighbor he had few equals and no superiors—always kind and generous, loyal and true—such a friend as one could always count on.

During the latter part of his life he was a great sufferer, being greatly afflicted, but he bore his suffering with much patience and resignation, so that none but those most intimate with him knew anything of what he endured. A few years ago he sold his plantation and for the last few months of his life he has lived with his nephew, Mr. W. T. Bordeaux. He was a consistent member of the Presbyterian church and contributed liberally to its support and was also a true and loyal Free Mason.

His end came as peacefully as the evening slumber to the tired child, and in the calm, quiet of his chamber without a struggle he laid down his earthly armor, and was relieved of life's weary load.

MUST BELIEVE IT.

When Well-Known Wilmington People Tell it so Plainly.

When public endorsement is made by a representative citizen of Wilmington the proof is positive. You must believe it. Read this testimony. Every backache sufferer, every man, woman or child with any kidney trouble will find profit in the reading.

B. R. King, the well-known policeman, residing at 706 Wooster street, says: "I had terrible pain in my back which worked around to my side and in my stomach, so bad at times that it laid me up. I used internal medicines and they did not help me. I put on plasters and rubbed with liniment, and none of them helped me at all. Seeing Doan's Kidney pills recommended I got a box of them at Bellamy's drug store. The next day after commencing to use them I noticed relief. Since using two boxes of them I have not had an ache or a pain in my back. It is with pleasure that I add my name to those endorsing the claims for this remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

HEALTHY PLANTS

Require the Most Careful Attention as Well as Good Soil.

Did you ever see a rosebush which—despite the most beneficent environment of soil—of sunshine—and of atmosphere, seemed never to achieve a healthy growth.

A ton of manure will not help a plant that has a canker eating out its heart.

You must destroy the cause before you can remove the effect.

You cannot cure Dandruff and Baldness by rubbing on hair lotions, and rubbing in vaseline, etc.

You must look to the cause of the trouble—it's a germ at the roots of your hair which causes it to fall out.

Saved by Dynamite.

Sometimes a flaming city is saved by dynamiting a space that the fire can't cross. Sometimes, a cough hangs on so long, you feel as if nothing but dynamite would cure it. Z. T. Cray, of Calhoun, Ga., writes: "My wife had a very aggragated cough, which kept her awake nights. Two physicians could not help her; so she took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, and Colds, which eased her cough, gave her sleep, and finally cured her." Strictly scientific cure for bronchitis and La Grippe. At R. R. Bellamy's drug store, price 50 c. and $1.00 guaranteed. Trial bottle free. **

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over 60 years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhoea. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Sold by Druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind. **

A Creeping Death.

Blood poison creeps up toward the heart, causing death. J. E. Stearns, Belle Plaine, Minn., writes that a friend dreadfully injured his hand, which swelled up like blood poisoning. Bucklen's Arnica Salve drew out the poison, healed the wound, and saved his life. Best in the world for burns and sores. 25c. at R. R. Bellamy's drug store. **

The Morning Star.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

Friday Morning, May 12.

KILLED OF SNYDER TORNADO NUMBER OVER A HUNDRED

Couple Who Were to Have Been Married the Next Morning Among the Slain.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Guthrie, Okla., May 11.—The death list of last night's tornado at Snyder will probably exceed 100 persons. Eighty-five bodies have been recovered, a dozen persons are missing and given up for dead, and of the forty-one seriously wounded several are likely to die. More than one hundred other persons suffered less severe injuries.

Relief is going from neighboring towns. Oklahoma City to-day sent 100 men to dig graves and seek the dead still in the ruins, and a dozen undertakers with one hundred coffin. Offers of financial assistance have come from numerous cities.

Governor Ferguson, of Oklahoma has issued a proclamation calling attention to the needs of the stricken town.

It is still difficult to obtain information from Snyder. A single telegraph wire furnishes an outlet, but it is blocked with private messages concerning the dead and the injured.

To add to the general confusion and distress after the tornado had passed, fire broke out and burned up all that remained of the buildings in one of the business blocks. So far it has not been possible to find out whether any bodies were cremated, but it is possible that such is the case.

An unidentified woman was picked up dead, having been pinioned to the ground by a large sliver which entered her left eye and came out through the back of her head. Clarence Donovan, a railroad engineer, and Miss Nila Fessenden were to have been married last night but had just postponed the nuptials until this morning. Both were instantly killed by the storm.

Fred Crump, a boy, had started to a cellar when a flying timber decapitated him. Debris was carried northeast as far as Cooperton, twelve miles, and it is reported that there are more fragments at that town than in the tornado path at Snyder.

About seventy-five head of horses and cattle were killed at Snyder. A committee this morning began to remove carcasses.

The mayor of Snyder is having much trouble preparing for the burial of the dead. The confusion is great, owing to the fact that there are a number of unidentified bodies at the morgues.

There is much suffering owing to lack of provisions and places to stay. What houses remain in the town are in bad condition and are unsafe for habitation. There is not room enough to care for the homeless. Bedding and wearing apparel are both lacking and despite the effort to succor the unfortunates they are still in a pitable condition. Many of the wounded could not be cared for or given medical aid until nine o'clock this morning and by that time their wounds were aggravated. Dr. York, of Hobart, who was active in relieving the suffering, says that twenty per cent. of the wounded will die.

Snyder, Okla., May 11.—At 10 o'clock to-night the number of known dead as a result of the tornado has reached 95. Arrangements have been made to convey all the injured who can be moved, to hospitals at Oklahoma City and Lawton. A special train for this purpose will leave Snyder at 11:30.

SEABOARD AIR LINE.

Statement of Compromise In Plans For Reorganization.

By wire to The Morning Star.

New York, May 11.—The reorganization committee of the Seaboard Air Line met to-day and decided to modify the reorganization plan in such a manner, it is said, as to make it acceptable to the Baltimore stockholders' committee who had objected to it. An official statement issued to-night says that under the plan heretofore proposed 85 per cent. of each class of stock had been deposited but the remaining stockholders refused to assent to this idea and as it would have been necessary to acquire the stock through lengthy litigation in the Southern States, the reorganization committee arranged "at the request of a majority of the stock that a 'holding' company should be formed on substantially the lines of the original consolidation. This 'holding' company will have the same amount of capital as was provided for the consolidated company, divided into the same classes of securities which will be used on substantially the same terms. With the money to be realized from the sale of the first preferred stock of the 'holding' company it will buy five per cent. mortgage bonds of the railway company, thus applying the latter with the money it needs.

In order that there should be no chance of affecting the present status of the stockholders of the railway company, it will be provided in the charter of the 'holding' company that its indebtedness can at no time exceed $500,000 and that stocks of the railway company that are to be acquired by the 'holding' company shall be held intact, free from any right of the new company to hypothecate them. The statement says:

"The details of the plan have been carefully worked out, and it will be submitted to the stockholders who have deposited their stock with the Morton Trust Company, within the next few days. A majority in amount both of the preferred and common stock have already agreed in writing that their stock shall be considered deposited under the new plan. This makes the plan effective."

HUMAN BEASTS IN RUSSIA.

Mob Which Massacred Jews Assaulted Helpless Women.

By Cable to The Morning Star.

St. Petersburg, May 11.—The Novosti, the Jewish organ, claims to have information showing that the massacre of Jews at Zhitomir was regularly organized while the Syn Otetchestca says Jewesses were assaulted during the attacks made upon the Israelites at Gostynin. The government papers are not permitted to print details of the recent attacks on Jews. At the Ministry of the Interior no detailed report of the rioting at Zhitomir had been received up to 7 o'clock this evening. A brief dispatch announced that the published reports were exaggerated and added that all was quiet there to-day and that the local authorities had carried out the instructions sent by Interior Minister Bouligin to maintain order. Troops had been brought to Zhitomir from Vassilki and notice had been given that if any further attempt was made to molest the Jews the soldiers would fire on those causing the disturbances.

AWFUL EXPLOSION SHOOK THE EARTH

TWENTY PEOPLE KILLED

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 11.—Twenty persons are known to be dead and more than one hundred others were injured in the railroad wreck and dynamite explosion which occurred early this morning on the Pennsylvania railroad in the southern part of this city. That not more persons were killed is considered remarkable by the Pennsylvania railroad officials, as a full box car of dynamite exploded directly at the middle of the heavy express train.

The scene of the wreck was visited by probably more than 50,000 persons. There were at least 5,000 persons constantly at the place. They came from Lancaster and from all the small towns within fifty miles. The authorities had the situation well in hand, however, and kept the crowds back from the tracks by means of ropes stretched along the telegraph poles. W. B. Capelb, superintendent of the Philadelphia division whose offices are in this city, said he was unable as yet to fix any responsibility for the accident. A thorough investigation he said, is now being made by his men.

The train carried a number of prominent persons and most of them escaped with only slight injuries. Among those on the train were Mr. and Mrs. James R. Tindel, of Pittsburg, the latter the daughter of United States Senator Knox; Mrs. A. J. Barr, wife of the proprietor of the Pittsburg Post, and her two daughters; Victor L. Crabbe, son-in-law of Robert Pitcairn, of Pittsburg, assistant to President A. J. Cassatt, of the Pennsylvania railroad, and Sam S. Shubert, one of the prominent threatrical managers of New York. Mr. Crabbe died in the Harrisburg hospital at noon, a few minutes before his father-in-law reached his bedside. Mr. Shubert was reported to be badly injured, but the others were only slightly hurt.

The wrecked train was the second section of the Cleveland-Cincinnati express, leaving Philadelphia at 11:05 o'clock last night. It consisted of a combination-baggage and smoking car, one day coach and six sleepers. There are various stories of how the wreck occurred, but the official version is as follows:

About 1:40 o'clock the engine on an eastbound freight train was flagged by the crew of a shifting engine ahead on the same track. The engineer quickly put on his air brakes and the train, an unusually long one, came to a sudden halt. The strain on the air valves was a severe one, and a connecting air hose in the middle of the train blew out. This caused the middle of the train to "buckle" and the damaged cars fell over on the passenger tracks.

Just as this happened the Cleveland express came thundering up and "side swiped the wreck." The express was stopped within its own length and the third sleeper was opposite the wrecked cars. Before any one could leave the passenger train which was not very badly damaged, a few slight explosions occurred, and then there was one great flash and roar that shook the earth. The whole affair occurred within the period of a few seconds.

A scene of horror followed the explosion of the dynamite. The passenger cars and some of the freight cars instantly took fire. As the reverberation of the terriffic explosion died away in the hills across the Susquehanna river, the agonizing cries of the injured could be heard. Men and women came tumbling and climbing from the car windows or crawled from under the wreckage. No one for the moment seemed to know what to do, and many of the passengers, momentarily seized with terror, ran widly about the fields on the north side of the railroad or waded into the shallow waters of the river which parallels the railroad on the south.

Realizing their safety and the danger still threatening others, the frightened passengers turned in and began the rescue of the living. As they approached the wreck another explosion occurred, which sent them scurring away. Fearing that the entire freight train might be loaded with dynamite, no one dared go near the wreck. Finally the railroad men who knew the contents of the burning freight train led the way and the uninjured passengers followed.

The advancing fire drove the rescuers back as they were about to take others from the wreck and the unfortunates, men and women, were soon enveloped in the flames. The cries of the dying were heart-rending in the extreme, but nothing could be done for them. An alarm of fire was sent in, but when the firemen reached the scene the flames had done their work so far as the victims in the wreck were concerned. The entire train was consumed by fire.

After the victims in the wreck were beyond human aid, more attention was paid to the injured, who presented a pitable sight as they lay in the field or on the banks of the Susquehanna. With the firemen came a corps of physicians from the city and the work of attending the injured began in earnest. As quickly as they were temporarily relieved of pain from burns or other injuries, they were placed on special trains and trolley cars and rushed to the hospitals here.

Several hundred railroad laborers were on the spot within an hour and at daybreak their number had been increased to a thousand. It was a gruesome task for the railroad men. Not one whole body was found in the wreck. Either an arm or a leg or all four limbs were burned off the trunk and in several cases only portions of the trunks were found. Ten charred bodies were found under one Pullman car. It is the belief of the railroad officials that if the explosion had not occurred there probably would have been no loss of life.

The dead were taken to Boyd's undertaking rooms here, which were transformed into a temporary morgue. Coroner Krouse empanelled a jury which viewed the bodies this afternoon. He will begin taking testimony to-morrow. The physicians and nurses at the Harrisburg hospital asisted by the trustees and members of the board of women managers, have been working incessantly since the first of the injured were taken there at 2:30 o'clock this morning. The hospital is crowded to the doors and row after row of cots now occupy the wards.

The sidewalks around the building have been crowded since early morning with persons anxious to see the injured. The crush for admittance was so great that it was necessary to place a policeman at each entrance.

THE NATIONS' SEA POWER CONCERNS GREAT BRITAIN

It Makes Redistribution of the Navy and Army Necessary for Colonial Defense.

By Cable to The Morning Star.

London, May 11.—In the House of Commons to-day Premier Balfour said that having regard for the changes in the sea power of other nations a redistribution of the fleet and army was desirable for colonial defense and the committee of defense of the admiralty had concluded that the fleet and the army should be concentrated in the centre of the Empire from which they would be distributed as necessity arose.

Mr. Balfour remarked that the development of Russia towards India had from time to time caused great alarm. Great Britain had in vain by diplomatic means endeavored to prevent Russia's expansion which must now be taken as an accepted fact. Although the invasion of India was much talked of by Russian officers he did not believe that it formed any part of the scheme of the Russian government.

Mr. Balfour's statement was made in the course of a reply to a question on the subject of the defnse of commercial ports. Mr. Balfour said the accepted policy in this regard had been reversed. After long consideration by the admiralty, the committee of defense had concluded that submarine mines constituted an inexpedient method of defending such ports. They were more likely to injure the defenders than damage to the enemy. Mr. Balfour believed civilized countries would check the sowing of mines in the waters of the world.

The advent of the submarine boat and torpedo boat must qualify the extreme doctrine of command of the sea held by the so-called blue water school. Even if fleets rode unchallenged in every part of the world he did not believe any British admiral would view with serenity the task of guarding a disembarkation on a coast infested with torpedo and submarine boats.

Mr. Balfour stated that in considering the difficulties of the invader he was obliged to base his calculations on the supposition that the enemy would be France, the country nearest to Great Britain. It was unnecessary to add it was the last thing in the world he regarded as possible. It was the opinion of Field Marshal Lord Roberts that it was useless to attempt an invasion of Great Britain with less than 70,000 men, and even if they landed it was but a forlorn hope that they would reach London. The premier believed it was impossible to land foreign troops in Great Britain and therefore a serious invasion need not be contemplated.

PRESIDENT COMING SOUTH.

Has Visited Every State and Territory Except Florida and Arkansas.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Washington, May 11.—President Roosevelt reached home at midnight to-night from his western trip, which he regards as one of the most enjoyable journeys he has taken since he has been President. He travelled 6,006 miles and passed through twelve States and three territories—Maryland, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Indian Territory, Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Colorado, Negraska and Iowa.

Every State and territory in the United States except Florida and Arkansas have been visited by Mr. Roosevelt since he became President and it is his intention to accept the hospitality of these States before his term is finished. It is probable that he will make a tour of the South some time before the convening of Congress in the Fall of this year. The demonstrations at every point where the President spoke are said by the official members of the party to have been the heartiest ever been accorded him on any trip.

The President was particularly pleased with the manner in which he was received in Chicago. Banquets were numerous on the trip but the President told the crew of his car "Rocket" that he never enjoyed anything more than the dinners they had prepared for him.

THE SOUTHERN BAPTISTS.

Preliminary Meetings to the Convention at Kansas City.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Kansas City, Mo., May 11.—Three meetings preliminary to the annual gathering of the Southern Baptist Convention were held here to-day, attended by nearly 1,000 men and women delegates from the South. The convention proper will begin its sessions to-morrow.

To-day the Woman's Missionary Union began its seventeenth annual convention in the Central Presbyterian church with 200 delegates representing the denominational colleges and schools of the South, present. The principal business consisted of listening to the annual address of the President, Mrs. J. A. Barker, of Virginia, and in listening to the reports of the corresponding secretary, Miss A. W. Armstrong, of Maryland, and of the treasurer, Miss E. V. Ricker, also of Maryland.

The Baptist Young People's Union and the Southern Baptist Educational conference held sessions at the latter meeting. Addresses were made by J. T. Henderson, president of Virginia Institute; M. D. Jeffreys, president of Carson and Newman college; H. W. Tribble, president of Rawlings' Institute; Rev. Wm. E. Hatcher, D. D., of Richmond, Va., and W. H. Kilpatrick, president of Mercer University.

GATTIS KILGO SUIT.

Continuance Granted Until Special Term Which Has Been Called.

Special Star Telegram.

Raleigh, N. C., May 11.—A continuance is ordered in the Gattis vs. Kilgo damage suit after all. An order was made to-day that it be continued until such time as Governor Glenn shall call a special term for its trial. The continuance was on affidavits of President Kilgo that W. R. Odell and Dr. Dred Peacock, witnesses for the defense, cannot attend court at this time. A motion by the defense to continue some days ago on account of the death of Washington Duke at Durham was refused. Governor Glenn calls the special term for June 12th.

BAPTISTS SOUTH AND NORTH.

Conference To Be Held at St. Louis to Affect Reunion.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

New York, May 11.—Announcement was made in this city to-day that a general meeting of both the Northern and Southern divisions of the Baptist church will be held at St. Louis on May 16th and and 17th, when the question of organizing a general convention of the Baptists of North America, including Canada, will be discussed. The denomination was separated by the slavery question many years ago.

Near Houston, Miss., Pete Evans, a negro waylaid and killed O. E. Dehay, a prominent young planter Tuesday night, using both charges from a double barrel shot gun. Posses are searching for the negro.

COTTON MILL MEN ELECT OFFICERS

R. M. Miller, of Charlotte, President of the American Cotton Manufacturers' Ass'n.

STARTLING LABOR SHORTAGE

Georgia Manufacturer Declares Immigration Necessary for Southern Mills—Charlotte Man Favors Merchant Marine.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Knoxville, Tenn., May 11.—With the unanimous adoption of a report from the committee on the nomination of officers fr the coming year, the ninth annual envention of the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association came to a close this afternoon. The officers chosen were:

President—R. M. Miller, Jr., of Charlotte, N. C.

Vice President—Arthur H. Lowe, of Fitchburg, Mass., re-elected.

Secretary-Treasurer—C. G. Bryant, of Charlotte, N. C., re-elected.

Chairman of Board of Governors—R. R. Ray, of McAdenville, N. C., re-elected.

Associate Governors—R. S. Reinhardt, of Lincolnton, N. C.; F. H. Remey, of Augusta, Ga.; David Clark, of Charlotte, N. C.; E. A. Smith, of Charlotte, N. C.

The next place of meeting was not selected by the convention but was referred to the board of governors, which will meet within the next sixty days to determine it. New Orleans and Augusta are the favorites.

The morning session was opened by President Reinhardt, and the election of ninety new active members from all parts of the United States was the first business.

John W. Fries, of Winston-Salem, N. C., read the opening paper on "Dust." William G. Nicholas, of Chester, S. C., read the second paper. "Waste, especially that unaccounted for in manufacturing," was the subject he discussed.

B. W. Hunt, of Eatonton, Ga., who was the next speaker, made some rather startling statements about labor in the South in discussing the subject "What a Northern Man Has Learned from Thirty Years Residence in the South." He discussed the need of imigration in his section; every mill had a labor shortage. The native born Georgians, bred on the farm from pioneer time, preferred to remain there. With cotton at six cents, the only person who could make a living cultivating it was the man who lived in a cabin, ate scanty food, had scantier clothing and worked hard on a little patch of land. Something had to be done to supply the labor necessary for mills and to prevent the continuous scramble for employes and to stop employers from robbing each other of hands. He advocated getting a tide of immigrants turned to the South. Foreign labor and French Canadians labor offered a solution of the question. He knew that shorter hours and strikes would probably come, but this trouble could be no worse than having few or no laborers. He had little complimentary to say of Southern negroes.

Various resolutions of thanks were passed by the convention at this juncture and very complimentary words spoken by speakers regarding the treatment accorded the convention by Knoxville. J. H. M. Beaty, of Clemson college, made a strong plea for the cotton manufacturers to establish scholarships in Southern textile schools, of which he says there are now five. pleasing feature of the closing hour was the presentation of a silver set of two hundred and sixty-five pieces to the retiring president.

Entering into executive session important resolutions were passed. One by George B. Hiss, of Charlotte, N. C., commended the frank and thorough report of President Roosevelt's merchant marine commission, and urged Congress at the next session to enact vigorous legislation for the upbuilding of American shipping in over-seas trade as the most effective method of commercial expansion. One by Mr. Ashcraft, pledged the co-operation of the convention with the cotton growers' convention in the extension of foreign markets for cotton products. The resolution urges President Roosevelt to appoint a special commission to formulate a plan for the extension of these markets. A committee will be appointed by this association to cooperate with a similar committee from the Southern Cotton Association.

The retiring president surrendered the chair to President Miller and after a short speech by him the convention adjourned.

At 4 o'clock the delegates took a special train on the belt and visited the leading manufacturing industries of the city. The delegates are leaving for their homes on night trains.

ARTILLERYMAN KILLED

Policeman at Phoebus, Va., Shot Him —Troops Ordered Out.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Newport News, Va., May 11.—Artilleryman Dowri, member of the 68th company, heavy coast artillery, was killed to-night in Phoebus by Police Officer Phillips. According to Officer Phillips he had occasion to reprimand three artilleryman for an infraction of a town ordinance, whereupon Dowri picked a fight with him. In the melee that followed seven artillerymen participated handling the policeman roughly, beating him with his own club. Citizens interferred and the soldiers tried to escape to the reservation. Phillips, however, pursued and cornered Dowri. He declares that the dead artilleryman advanced on him in a threatening manner and refused to halt, whereupon he shot him. Dowri died before reaching the hospital. Intense excitement prevailed among the soldiers and sailors in Phoebus, many being there as a result of "pay day," liberty having been given them. Colonel Potts, commandant at Fort Monroe, ordered out a company of soldiers and order soon was restored, the artillerymen being ordered back to the seservation. Phoebus is practically under martial law, two companies of soldiers being in charge of the town. Phillips has been arrested and is held under guard at the fire engine house.

VOCALIST OF RARE GIFTS.

Miss McIntosh, of Wilmington, Gave Delightful Recital in Charlotte.

The Charlotte Observer of yesterday has a very complimentary notice of the last of the graduating recitals of the Presbyterian College Conservatory of Music in the college auditorium by Miss McFadyen, pianist and Miss McIntosh, of Wilmington, vocalist, with Miss Moore accompanist on both piano and organ. Miss McIntosh is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neill McIntosh, of this city, and that she is succeeding admirably in her chosen field of music is abundantly testified by the following from the Observer:

"The admirable variety and versatility in this series of recitals is worthy of special remark. Every one has differed from the one preceding and that of last evening was a fitting end to the entire series.

"Miss McIntosh's high, sweet, full, resonant tones in Mendelssohn's "Jerusalem, Thou that Killest the Prophets" (St. Paul.), were a revelation to the audience, who were hardly prepared to hear so rich a voice.

"Chopin's plaintive E Minor Prelude formed a fitting contrast to his posthumous Valse in the same key, the change of sentiment between the two was admirably brought out; the young performer seemed to enter fully into the meaning of each.

"A fine selection from Tannhauser (Wagner), though difficult and hard to interpret, was well rendered by Miss McIntosh, her voice filling the large hall with ease.

"Miss McIntosh almost brought tears as she threw her whole heart into Mager's Minor Chord, but Brahm's exquisite little Lullaby soothed the feeling of sadness produced by the Minor Chord and evoked numerous compliments. Liza Lehman's "Ah! Gather Roses" closed this beautiful trio.

"The recital ended with Boynton Smith's "Nightingale and Zephyr," one of the most attractive pieces of the lighter of school of pianoforte music. It was charmingly rendered, its beautiful melodies floating out as though from the throat of the bird in the summer garden where the gentle zephyrs play."

MAJ. STEDMAN MENTIONED.

Special Star Correspondence.

Greensboro, N. C., May 11.—His many friends in Greensboro are delighted to hear that Major Charles M. Stedman has been so prominently mentioned in the past few days for appointment to the position on the Board of Directors of the Gettysburg Battle Ground Commission made vacant by the recent death of Major Robbins. Before any one here had thought of it, friends from many sections of the State had written letters here urging the appropriateness of Major Stedman's selection. It is felt that with the recommendations he could get for the position from influential parties of both political organizations, and especially from the old soldiers. Major Stedman's endorsements would have considerable influence in retaining the position to North Carolina.

From this viewpoint alone, a very prominent Federal official here said today that he hoped Major Stedman's thousands of friends throughout the State would present the appropriateness of his selection to the President. When seen this morning, Major Stedmna said that it was an almost ideal position to a man of his age and tastes, but that he hadn't thought of the place as possibility until he had letters from old friends in other sections urging him for the position. He said he would not think of entering into a contest with any other gentleman for it, nor would he seek the place in any sense as a candidate, but that he did from his heart deeply appreciate the sentiment which prompted the mention of his name, and would gratefully appreciate their further good will.

TERRIBLE TRAGEDY IN GEORGIA.

Man Killed His Wife, Shot Two Others and Committed Suicide.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Valdosta, Ga., May 11.—John Hewitt, a white man of Adel, shot and killed his wife to-day, shot her sister and brother, wounding them slightly, and when surrounded by a posse of citizens, shot and killed himself. The cause of the tragedy is unknown, but it is known that Hewitt, who had been in bad health recently, was once confined in a sanitarium and for some weeks had not lived with his wife.
